1. Introduction

This student handbook provides some general information about the English Language and Literature Studies (ELLS) Programme in the Division of Humanities and Social Sciences, at BNU-HKBU United International College. Students can also find specific information about the programme curriculum, structure, degree requirements, etc. in this handbook. Students should read this handbook carefully and talk to their mentors, teachers, Programme Director, or the Division Dean if they have any queries. The contents of this handbook are for reference only, and are subject to change without prior notice.

2. The Division of Humanities and Social Sciences

The primary academic objective of the Division is to provide students with a number of four-year Honours Degree Programmes. Six major programmes are currently offered:

Programme	Degree ⁱ	Years of Study
Applied Translation Studies 应用翻译学	BA (Hons) ⁽ⁱ⁾ 文学士（荣誉）	4
Chinese Culture and Global Communication 中华文化与国际传播	BA (Hons) ⁽ⁱⁱ⁾ 文学士（荣誉）	4

3. The English Language and Literature Studies Programme

The ELLS Programme is committed to quality, leading-edge education, and active research. It offers the Bachelor of Arts (Honours) in English Language and Literature Studies.

3.1. Teaching Methods and Medium of Instruction

Classroom teaching and learning are a composite of lectures, tutorials, guest lectures, and seminars/workshops in the form of group presentations and role plays. English is the medium of instruction. In addition, an e-learning platform, iSpace, is employed to enhance students' learning experience through ⁱ The following degrees will be awarded by the Hong Kong Baptist University: (i) Bachelor of Arts (Honours) in Applied Translation Studies 应用翻译学文学士（荣誉）；(ii) Bachelor of Arts (Honours) in Chinese Culture and Global Communication 中华文化与国际传播（荣誉）(iii) Bachelor of Arts (Honours) in English Language and Literature Studies 英语语言文学文学士（荣誉）；(iv) Bachelor of Social Sciences (Honours) in Globalisation and Development 全球化与发展社会科学学士（荣誉）；(v) Bachelor of Communication in Media and Communication Studies (Honours) 媒体与传播传播学士（荣誉）；(vi) Bachelor of Arts (Honours) in Public Relations and Advertising 公共关系与广告学文学士（荣誉）。 the use of relevant e-learning tools, e.g. online discussions, glossaries, quizzes, wiki, and e-resources (reading materials, audio and video clips, etc.).

Since the ELLS Programme is committed to the development of students' overall English abilities, teaching and learning activities which aim at enhancing the four language skills are encouraged, such as group discussions, group presentations, debates, role-play, critical reviews of recommended reading materials, and writing conferences. Extra teaching assistants are provided to the tutorial sessions of some major required courses to facilitate the group discussions.

3.2. Programme Aims, Objectives and Learning Outcomes

Programme Aims

The Programme aims at providing students with a solid foundation in English studies, while offering at the same time the opportunity to specialise in one of the three areas: Professional Communication, Literary Studies, or English Language Teaching. It provides a multi-disciplinary approach to studying the language and literature applicable to educational, professional and cultural contexts.

Programme Intended Learning Outcomes (PILOs)

Upon completion of the Programme, students should be able to:

- PILO 1: Communicate in English clearly, critically and creatively within academic and professional contexts;
- PILO 2: Identify and evaluate the main approaches and theories within the fields of language and literary studies;
- PILO 3: Critically analyse and interpret data on language use and communication in literary and socio-cultural contexts;
- PILO 4: Work independently or in collaborative teams in researching and developing materials for effective academic and professional communication; and
- PILO 5: Develop an intercultural awareness and intercultural skills and strategies that synthesise the values of linguistic, ethical and cultural diversity and contributes to professional and personal growth.

As students of the Programme will receive HKBU degrees upon successful completing the graduation requirements, the above PILOs are in line with HKBU's graduates attributes (GAs):

- GA 1: Citizenship: Be responsible citizens with an international outlook and a sense of ethics and civility;
- GA 2: Knowledge: Have up-to-date, in-depth knowledge of an academic specialty, as well as a broad range of cultural and general knowledge;
- GA 3: Learning: Be independent, lifelong learners with an open mind and an inquiring spirit;
- GA 4: Skills: Have the necessary information literacy and IT skills, as well as numerical and problem-solving skills, to function effectively in work and everyday life;
- GA 5: Creativity: Be able to think critically and creatively;
- GA 6: Communication: Have trilingual and biliterate competence in English and Chinese, and the ability to articulate ideas clearly and coherently;
- GA 7: Teamwork: Be ready to serve, lead and work in a team, and to pursue a healthy lifestyle.

3.3. Concentration Objectives

The ELLS Programme consists of three concentrations:

- English for Professional Communication (EPC)
- Literary Studies in English (LSE)
- Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages (TESOL)

Each concentration is designed with its own specific objectives.

The curriculum of the EPC Concentration is to provide students with:

- (1) Strong English proficiency through focused and interactive courses in professional writing, communication and language.
- (2) Detailed academic knowledge and creative skills for students wishing to pursue advanced studies in professional writing, communication and language.
- (3) Practical, analytical and creative skills that can be applied to specialized areas such as business, education, publishing, law, and other fields.
- (4) An interdisciplinary perspective through the study of specialized topics in language and professional communication.

The curriculum of the LSE Concentration is to provide students with:

- (1) Strong English proficiency through focused and interactive courses in literature and language.
- (2) Detailed academic knowledge and creative skills for students wishing to pursue advanced studies in literature and/or language.
- (3) Critical thinking and creative skills relevant to the study of literature and language.
- (4) Knowledge of the cultural traditions and forces that have shaped English literature and language in contemporary societies.

The curriculum of the TESOL Concentration is to provide students with:

- (1) English language competence as a prerequisite skill for teachers of English as a second language (ESL), which pertains to the four skill areas—speaking, listening, reading, and writing—and includes classroom discourse and grammatical competence.

- (2) An in-depth understanding of the linguistic structure of English as it is used in the world today.
- (3) Skills necessary to analyse, synthesise and evaluate ESL course materials and teaching aids appropriate to learner needs and course objectives, and to apply up-to-date teaching approaches and methodologies.
- (4) A wide range of perspectives on the approaches, methodologies and practices in the teaching of English as a second language.

4. Teaching Staff

Full-time faculty members are recruited from all over the world.

5. Programme Structure

There are three concentrations available in the programme. All students must enrol in one concentration upon the second year of study and graduate with that concentration. For graduation, they are required to take and pass all Concentration Required courses in that concentration together with the Major Required courses and Major Elective courses as stipulated by the programme, with a cGPA not lower than 2.0.

All students are expected to complete 150 units within the normative study period (i.e. 4 years) in accordance with the curriculum structure as follows:
